A photograph capturing a vibrant night scene at a desert camp. In the foreground, a large, ornate dragon statue is breathing a massive, bright orange flame that illuminates the dark sky. To the right, a man in a dark t-shirt and shorts is kneeling on the sand, gesturing towards the fire with his hands. Behind him, several people are sitting on a long, low seat, watching the performance. The background features several traditional white tents with dark roofs, typical of a desert camp. The overall atmosphere is festive and magical, with the warm glow of the fire and the surrounding lights creating a cozy, celebratory environment.
